DELAWARE
Technology Conference 2006
Reaching out to Delaware through IT

News Release
September 22, 2006

THIRD ANNUAL STATEWIDE IT CONFERENCE
SCHEDULED FOR OCTOBER 10 IN DOVER

Dover – The Department of Technology and Information and the Information Resource Managers Council are sponsoring the Third Annual Delaware Technology Conference at the Dover Sheraton on Tuesday October 10, 2006 from 8:30-4:30 pm.

This year's keynote speaker is Kimberly T. Nelson, Executive Director of Microsoft Corporation's EGovernment section. The featured speaker is Lawrence Knafo of Cisco Systems Inc.'s Internet Business Solutions Group. The conference features break out sessions on a variety of IT topics such as Cyber Security, Website Development, Virus Protection and Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Additionally, there will be exhibits by IT vendors, a cybercafe and a dessert social at the conclusion of the day's events.

Originally developed as a conference specifically for State employees in the IT area, including K-12 schools, the conference has since expanded to include vendors, representatives from County and local governments, representatives from Higher Education institutions, and members of the public sector. Last year nearly 400 people were in attendance. The conference is open to anyone who is interested and the registration fee is $25.00 which includes lunch.

For more information or to register online visit the conference's website: http://deitconference.state.de.us

-30-

Delaware
DEPARTMENT OF TECHNOLOGY & INFORMATION
Enabling Excellence In Delaware State Government